

FACULTY OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY AND MULTIMEDIA

Faculty Introduction

Initially known as Department of Information Technology, Faculty of Information Technology and Multimedia (FTMM) was established on May 1, 2004. The faculty plays an important role in fostering high-tech professionals in Information Technology and at the same time, meeting the needs of local and international industries. This faculty consists of two departments, offering undergraduates and graduate level degree. The latter leading to a M.Sc. or a Ph.D. in Information Technology. Supported by non-academic staff, the faculty is home to academia who are dedicated to excellence in teaching and research which spans the spectrum of Information Technology and Multimedia.

DEPARTMENTS

- Department of Software Engineering
- Department of Information System